From Kotor

To tell you the truth, when I first saw the president, I thought Haru is second. But she was a guy. But now, I like her the best!

from Kotor

When she first transferred to our school, everyone was saying, "Man, it's just a girl. How disappointing." I didn't really think it was disappointing. Maybe when you're in grade school, people just feel differently about things.

From Ikki

The conversation between Hinoshu and Eiko is quite cute. I'll be looking forward to more of your works, Asakura! ^^^

from Ikki

Tsk. Ikki. He is rather childish. Hinoshu, that is. Just the other day, he was so upset when I was poking the doudou. So childish!

from Sena

Is Eiko standing with other people? Tell me.

from Sena

The school is apparently forbidding the use of cell phones. Many of the students have them. So, I'm more like something in between a cell and a transfer student, and I am forcibly taking the classes. He he he...

President's feelings are hard mine. I think she should just be an observer! I wish
she wouldn't take

- Ryoko

but I myself don't know how to be 'an observer' I'm not even sure what relationship I want to have with friends-like...

014 君が君でいてほしい

hey Ryoko, that was harsh! I would still be reading. Be true with your passion. Break down. You shouldn't listen to all that!
- Jisshu

when you experience passion, love, it gives you a really, REALLY hard time. I don't want the president to go through that.

the way she absolutely longed

Once the problem is identified, the next step is to analyze it. This involves breaking the problem down into its components and understanding how they are related. The third step is to develop a plan. This involves deciding on the best way to solve the problem and the steps that need to be taken. The fourth step is to implement the plan. This involves putting the plan into action and making sure that it is followed. The fifth step is to evaluate the results. This involves checking to see if the problem has been solved and if the plan was effective.
